CRAIG VEUCASOVIC,

Plaintiff,

v.

Case No. 2:16-cv-38
HON. ROBERT HOLMES BELL

UNKNOWN LACROSSE, et al.,

Defendants.

REPORT AND RECOMMENDATION

This is a civil rights action brought by state prisoner Craig Veucasovic pursuant to 42 U.S.C. § 1983. Defendants Unknown Butler and Unknown Lacrosse filed a motion for summary judgment on the ground that Plaintiff failed to exhaust his available administrative remedies. (ECF No. 17). Defendant Danielle Paquette filed a motion for summary judgment on the ground that Plaintiff failed to exhaust his available administrative remedies (ECF No. 20). Plaintiff filed a response (ECF No. 21). Defendant Paquette filed a reply. (ECF No. 24).

Plaintiff alleges that on December 9, 2015, Defendants retaliated against him for filing a grievance. Plaintiff alleges that he submitted a grievance against Defendants Lacrosse and Butler concerning their failure to accommodate his medical detail. Defendant Paquette renewed Plaintiff's special detail requiring a ground floor cell on December 14, 2015. Defendant Lacrosse requested that Plaintiff sign-off on the grievance. Plaintiff refused on December 15, 2015. After Plaintiff refused to sign-off on the grievance, he picked up his re-issued medical detail which no longer gave Plaintiff a ground floor cell accommodation. Plaintiff questioned why the medical detail was changed and was told to speak with Defendants Lacrosse and Butler.

Plaintiff asserted that he filed a grievance against Defendants Lacrosse and Butler on December 22, 2015, for the retaliatory discontinuation of Plaintiff's medical detail less than 24 hours after Plaintiff was interviewed on his grievance submission. Plaintiff alleges that on December 17, 2015, he was found guilty by Defendant Lacrosse of a Class II misconduct ticket for being out place because "plaintiff file[d] a grievance against [Defendant Lacrosse]." Plaintiff was given five days of toplock restrictions.

Summary judgment is appropriate when the record reveals that there are no genuine issues as to any material fact in dispute and the moving party is entitled to judgment as a matter of law. FED. R. CIV. P. 56(c); Kocak v. Comty. Health Partners of Ohio, Inc., 400 F.3d 466, 468 (6th Cir. 2005); Thomas v. City of Chattanooga, 398 F.3d 426, 429 (6th Cir. 2005). The standard for determining whether summary judgment is appropriate is "whether the evidence presents a sufficient disagreement to require submission to a jury or whether it is so one-sided that one party must prevail as a matter of law." State Farm Fire & Cas. Co. v. McGowan, 421 F.3d 433, 436 (6th Cir. 2005) (quoting Anderson v. Liberty Lobby, Inc., 477 U.S. 242, 251-52 (1986)); see also Tucker v. Union of Needletrades Indus. & Textile Employees, 407 F.3d 784, 787 (6th Cir. 2005). The court must consider all pleadings, depositions, affidavits, and admissions on file, and draw all justifiable inferences in favor of the party opposing the motion. See Matsushita Elec. Indus. Co., Ltd. v. Zenith Radio Corp., 475 U.S. 574, 587 (1986); Twin City Fire Ins. Co. v. Adkins, 400 F.3d 293, 296 (6th Cir. 2005).

A prisoner's failure to exhaust his administrative remedies is an affirmative defense, which Defendants have the burden to plead and prove. Jones v. Bock, 549 U.S. 199, 212-216 (2007). A moving party without the burden of proof need show only that the opponent cannot sustain his burden at trial. See Morris v. Oldham County Fiscal Court, 201 F.3d 784, 787 (6th Cir.

2000); see also Minadeo v. ICI Paints, 398 F.3d 751, 761 (6th Cir. 2005). A moving party with the burden of proof faces a “substantially higher hurdle.” Arnett v. Myers, 281 F.3d 552, 561 (6th Cir. 2002); Cockrel v. Shelby County Sch. Dist., 270 F.3d 1036, 1056 (6th Cir. 2001). “Where the moving party has the burden -- the plaintiff on a claim for relief or the defendant on an affirmative defense -- his showing must be sufficient for the court to hold that no reasonable trier of fact could find other than for the moving party.” Calderone v. United States, 799 F.2d 254, 259 (6th Cir. 1986) (quoting W. SCHWARZER, Summary Judgment Under the Federal Rules: Defining Genuine Issues of Material Fact, 99 F.R.D. 465, 487-88 (1984)). The United States Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit repeatedly has emphasized that the party with the burden of proof “must show the record contains evidence satisfying the burden of persuasion and that the evidence is so powerful that no reasonable jury would be free to disbelieve it.” Arnett, 281 F.3d at 561 (quoting 11 JAMES WILLIAM MOORE, ET AL., MOORE’S FEDERAL PRACTICE § 56.13[1], at 56-138 (3d ed. 2000); Cockrel, 270 F.2d at 1056 (same). Accordingly, summary judgment in favor of the party with the burden of persuasion “is inappropriate when the evidence is susceptible of different interpretations or inferences by the trier of fact.” Hunt v. Cromartie, 526 U.S. 541, 553 (1999).

Pursuant to the applicable portion of the Prison Litigation Reform Act (PLRA), 42 U.S.C. § 1997e(a), a prisoner bringing an action with respect to prison conditions under 42 U.S.C. § 1983 must exhaust his available administrative remedies. See Porter v. Nussle, 534 U.S. 516, 532 (2002); Booth v. Churner, 532 U.S. 731, 733 (2001). A prisoner must first exhaust available administrative remedies, even if the prisoner may not be able to obtain the specific type of relief he seeks in the state administrative process. See Porter, 534 U.S. at 520; Booth, 532 U.S. at 741; Knuckles El v. Toombs, 215 F.3d 640, 642 (6th Cir. 2000); Freeman v. Francis, 196 F.3d 641, 643 (6th Cir. 1999). In order to properly exhaust administrative remedies, prisoners must complete the administrative review process in accordance with the deadlines and other applicable procedural rules. Jones v. Bock, 549 U.S. 199, 218-19 (2007); Woodford v. Ngo, 548 U.S. 81, 90-91 (2006). “Compliance with prison grievance procedures, therefore, is all that is required by the PLRA to ‘properly exhaust.’” Jones, 549 U.S. at 218-19. In rare circumstances, the grievance process will be considered unavailable where officers are unable or consistently unwilling to provide relief, where the exhaustion procedures may provide relief, but no ordinary prisoner can navigate it, or “where prison administrators thwart inmates from taking advantage of a grievance process through machination, misrepresentation, or intimidation.” Ross v. Blake, 136 S.Ct. 1850, 1859-1860 (2016).

MDOC Policy Directive 03.02.130 (effective July 9, 2007), sets forth the applicable grievance procedures for prisoners in MDOC custody at the time relevant to this complaint. Inmates must first attempt to resolve a problem orally within two business days of becoming aware of the grievable issue, unless prevented by circumstances beyond his or her control Id. at ¶ P. If oral resolution is unsuccessful, the inmate may proceed to Step I of the grievance process and submit a completed grievance form within five business days of the attempted oral resolution. Id. at ¶ P. The Policy Directive also provides the following directions for completing grievance forms: “The issues shall be stated briefly. Information provided shall be limited to the facts involving the issue being grieved (i.e., who, what, when, where, why, how). Dates, times, places and names of all those involved in the issue being grieved are to be included.” Id. at ¶ R (emphasis in original).¹

¹In Holloway v. McClaren, No. 15-2184 (6th Cir., April 7, 2016) (unpublished), the Sixth Circuit concluded that where a plaintiff fails to name each defendant in his grievance, the un-named defendants may not be dismissed for failure to exhaust grievance remedies if the MDOC did not reject the grievance under the policy requiring a grievant to name each individual involved. The Sixth Circuit stated: “Because MDOC officials addressed the merits of Holloway’s grievance at each step and did not enforce any procedural requirements, Holloway’s failure to identify the defendants named in this lawsuit and to specify any wrongdoing by them in his grievances cannot

The inmate submits the grievance to a designated grievance coordinator, who assigns it to a respondent. Id. at ¶ X.

If the inmate is dissatisfied with the Step I response, or does not receive a timely response, he may appeal to Step II by obtaining an appeal form within ten business days of the response, or if no response was received, within ten days after the response was due. Id. at ¶¶ T, DD. The respondent at Step II is designated by the policy, e.g., the regional health administrator for a medical care grievances. Id. at ¶ GG. If the inmate is still dissatisfied with the Step II response, or does not receive a timely Step II response, he may appeal to Step III. Id. at ¶ FF. The Step III form shall be sent within ten business days after receiving the Step II response, or if no Step II response was received, within ten business days after the date the Step II response was due. Id. at ¶ FF. The Grievance and Appeals Section is the respondent for Step III grievances on behalf of the MDOC director. Id. at ¶ GG. Time limitations shall be adhered to by the inmate and staff at all steps of the grievance process. Id. at ¶ X. “The total grievance process from the point of filing a Step I grievance to providing a Step III response shall be completed within 90 calendar days unless an extension has been approved” Id. at ¶ HH.

Plaintiff submitted five grievances through Step III. However, only one of his Step III grievances was completed before Plaintiff filed this lawsuit. Plaintiff only exhausted grievance URF-15-12-4863-28a prior to filing this lawsuit. That grievance was rejected because it was duplicative to URF-15-12-4575-03F. URF-15-12-4575-03F was filed at Step I before Plaintiff filed his Step I grievance in URF-15-12-4863-28a. However, URF-15-12-4575-03F was not provide the basis for dismissal of his complaint for lack of exhaustion.” Id. at 3. The Sixth Circuit failed to provide any guidance as to how the MDOC might determine who the plaintiff intended to name in a future federal lawsuit at the time the plaintiff filed his Step I grievance.

completed until February 29, 2016. ECF No. 18-4, PageID.70. Plaintiff's complaint was dated February 9, 2016, and filed with this court on February 12, 2016. In the opinion of the undersigned, Plaintiff failed to exhaust his claim that Defendants retaliated against him by discontinuing his special medical accommodation for a ground floor cell in retaliation for filing a grievance against Defendants Lacrosse and Butler. It appears that Plaintiff's grievance URF-15-12-4575-03F did exhaust this claim, but that grievance was not completed until after Plaintiff filed this complaint. ECF No. 21, PageID.97-102. Therefore, because Plaintiff filed this complaint before he actually exhausted his claims against Defendants, it appears that Plaintiff's complaint should be dismissed without prejudice.

To the extent that Plaintiff is alleging that Defendant Lacrosse issued a misconduct ticket against Plaintiff for filing grievances, it is the opinion of the undersigned, that Plaintiff failed to exhaust his administrative remedies by failing to first raise the issue of retaliation at his misconduct hearing. Siggers v. Campbell, 652 F.3d 681, 693-694 (6th Cir. 2011).

For the foregoing reasons, I recommend that Defendants' motions for summary judgment (ECF No. 17 and 20) be granted dismissing Plaintiff's complaint without prejudice.

Should the court adopt the report and recommendation in this case, the court must next decide whether an appeal of this action would be in good faith within the meaning of 28 U.S.C. § 1915(a)(3). See McGore v. Wrigglesworth, 114 F.3d 601, 611 (6th Cir. 1997). For the same reasons that the undersigned recommends granting Defendants' motion for summary judgment, the undersigned discerns no good-faith basis for an appeal. Should the court adopt the report and recommendation and should Plaintiff appeal this decision, the court will assess the $505 appellate filing fee pursuant to § 1915(b)(1), see McGore, 114 F.3d at 610-11, unless Plaintiff is barred from proceeding in forma pauperis, e.g., by the “three-strikes” rule of § 1915(g). If he is barred, he will be required to pay the $505 appellate filing fee in one lump sum.
